

lights out green in

Turning you on to turning off your lights

Global crisis

Human-caused greenhouse gases increase by 2 percent each year, bringing us to the point where there will be irreversible damage to the planet. Alternative-energy sources are being sought, but until they are viable, conservation is the best solution to global warming.

Take the pledge

By turning off your lights from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. and utilizing natural sunlight, your company or household can make a difference in the global effort to conserve energy. Pledge at www.lightsoutgreenin.org to turn off your lights. The savings will be good for the environment and your pocketbook. One business surveyed would cut its electricity bill by more than 3 percent.

lights out green in

Beyond the pledge...

Lights Out, Green In, a nonprofit, provides compact-fluorescent light bulbs to low-income residents. Living an environment-friendly lifestyle can be costly, so Lights Out, Green In helps those in need save energy without having to spend money.

What you can do...

Take the pledge – Use lightsoutgreenin.org to sign up to turn out your lights from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. every day. Tell your co-workers and friends to do the same, and you can even sign up for daily e-mail alerts from our Web site at www.lightsoutgreenin.org.

Make a donation / buy CFLs – In addition to helping to cut emissions and save the environment, you'll be saving money by taking the pledge. Use some of your electric-bill savings to buy compact-fluorescent light bulbs. Donate some of your savings to Lights Out, Green In, which will provide CFLs to low-income residents. Make your donations at www.lightsoutgreenin.org.

Conserve, conserve, conserve – Use the 11 a.m. period not only to save money and cut emissions, but also to emphasize the importance of conservation in your everyday life.

Visit www.lightsoutgreenin.org - Our Web site offers daily environmental blogs, a forum for environmental issues and an environmental tip of the day. Sign up to take the pledge or make a donation at lightsoutgreenin.org.

Spread the word – America has a great history of banding together to accomplish a singular goal and it needs to do it once more to help save the planet. The pledge is a grassroots idea that needs your help to catch on.

About Us ...

Lights Out, Green In is a nonprofit organization formed to promote conservation. Find out more at www.lightsoutgreenin.org.

Printed on recycled paper.